A T A MEETING OF THE DELEGATES FROM THE Jongshoremen's Union, held in convention at 76 and 78 Variek street, on Tuesday evening. November 17, 1874, it was manimously resolved that no member of the different Unions will ever work, under any consideration, for the Waish Bross, stevedores: and that the Unique shoremen are all willing to work for any other stevedore or foreman the companies may place on the docks, at the regular rates of wages, namely, 40 cents per hour for any work and 80 cents per hour for night work. P. S.—We hope that no other men will work in our places.

A CARD.
TO THE HOLDERS OF TICKETS TO THE GRAND GIFT CONCERT OF THE MASONIC RELIEF ASSO-

The following reasons have induced us to this action:

First—While our receipts have been large they have not been of sufficient amount to enable us to give a full drawing.

Second—A drawing on the 19th linst, would not yield enough to accomplish the object for which our association was organized and chartered; and,

Third—The encouragement which we have received convinces us that in forty days more we shall, without any failure, give a drawing which, in its results, will be acceptable to at our friends.

We have, therefore, fixed upon

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 29,

as the day when the Concert and Distribution will take place, whether all the tickets are sold or not, or the money will be retunded upon application and presentation of the tickets at the agency where purchased.

COMMITTEE ROOM OF IRISH EMIGRANT SOCI-ety and Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank, No. 51 Chambers street, New York.

Chambers street, New York.

Other Street, New York.

November 20, 1874.

At a joint meeting of the Executive Committee of the Irish Emigrant Society and of the Board of Trustees of the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank, held this day, Mr. James Olwell presiding.

The Chairman atmounced that this special and joint meeting had been called in consequence of the death of one who had for many years been an honored member and officer of both the institutions represented. He are the control of the institutions represented they were unanimously adopted;—

Resolved, That each of the institutions represented by us has great cause to regret the decease and to honor the memory of Joseph Stuart, and we would be lacking duty to ourselves and to the people we represent did we allow this occasion to pass without publicly acknowledging his services.

For upwards of twenty years he was an active and zealous member of the Irish Emigrant Society and its Vice President. During the greater part of that time all aid or protection of emigrants depended solely on individual efforts, there being then no state commission having charge of that good work.

Mr. Stuart was one of the original associates who, taking for the fiels of their benevolence this so much needed aid and orotection, labored zealously in the establishment of these institutions.

Mr. Stuart was ever anxious to do all in his power, by personal exertion and by contributing liberally of his taking for the field of their benevolence this so much neased aid and protection, Labored zealously in the establishment of these institutions.

Mr. Staart was ever anxious to do all in his power, by personal exertion and by contributing liberally of his wealth, in furtherance of the objects and aims of the society—namely, the intelligent and friendly direction of the stranger landing on these shores. He was largely instrumental in bringing to the attention of the State authorities the necessity of establishing the present Board of Commissioners of Emigration.

Of the Emigrant Industrial savings Bank he was one of the original incorporators, and for upward of ten years its President, and his wide experience and sagacity as a banker contributed very materially to its good management and financial success.

As a civizen of New York his record is known of all men and requires no cology from us, but of his private acts of benevolence, which of necessity became known to us in consequence of our association with him, we can truly testify that not only was he always willing to aid the needy, but that he did so without inquiry as to creed, cauntry or religious predictions. We mourn the loss at this excellent man, and we hereby tender to his afflicted family our sincere symnathy in their sudden and irreparable is record these resolutions on the minute books of orly congressed and signed by our resolutions of the consequence of the secretary and to our former associate in a body.

Resolved, That these proceedings be published in the Herald, World, Times and Evening Post.
